Applying Comparative Effectiveness and Quality Improvement Research and Education (ACQUIRE)

The Radiological Society of North America (RSNA), the American Society of Neuroradiology (ASNR), the Society of Interventional Radiology Foundation (SIRF), and the Society of Nuclear Medicine and Molecular Imaging (SNMMI) are co-sponsoring an interactive training program in health care delivery, clinical effectiveness and economic evaluation targeted at academic radiologists and radiation oncologists across all career stages in order to expand the community of radiologic researchers.

Program Dates and Details

- ▶ Course duration: September 2024-March 2025
- ▶ 1 ½-day, in-person Workshop I at RSNA headquarters (Sept. 12-13, 2024)
- ▶ ½-day virtual Workshop II (March 4, 2025)
- ▶ Introductory track-based online education modules
- ▶ Web-based didactic lectures, virtual check-ins and small-group discussions
- ▶ Informal mentoring/networking event held at RSNA 2025 (optional)

Learning Objectives

Upon completing the program, participants will be able to:

- ▶ Develop new methodological knowledge in health care delivery science, clinical effectiveness research or economic evaluation through web-based didactics and intensive workshops.
- ▶ Recognize practical goals and milestones in conducting health care delivery, clinical effectiveness research or economic evaluation.

Who Should Register

The program will support career development for academic radiologists, imaging-related researchers, radiology trainees and research team members (such as masters-level research assistants or analysts in imagers labs).

- ▶ The Society of Interventional Radiology Foundation (SIRF) will sponsor up to four travel awards for Interventional Radiology participants. Sponsored applicants must be SIR members.

Available Tracks

- ▶ Evidence Synthesis/Quality Improvement
- ▶ Observational Research /Healthcare Delivery Science
- ▶ Economic Evaluation/Decision Science

Specific details of each track can be found on RSNA.org/ACQUIRE. Participants may participate in future cycles to select one of the other tracks.

Registration Fees

- ▶ Trainees: $400
